12.2. Such force majeure shall not excuse the Buyer’s obligation to make payment for Goods already delivered or currently being delivered or on the sea or road.

12.3. If either party is prevented in the performance of any of its obligations under the Contract by a force majeure event that party will forthwith serve notice in writing on the other party specifying the nature and extent of the circumstances giving rise to force majeure. The party claiming the benefit of the force majeure provision will continue to perform the balance of its obligations in so far as it is reasonably able to do so and will use all reasonable endeavours to mitigate the effects of the force majeure event on the performance of its obligations.

12.4. If under the Contract terms the Goods is to be delivered by way of a single delivery and the performance of the Contract is hindered or delayed for 40 days or more due to a force majeure event the Seller may give written notice to the Buyer to cancel the Contract in which case neither party will have any liability to the other except for those rights and liabilities which accrued prior to such cancellation. 12.5. If under the Contract terms the Goods are to be delivered by instalments and one of the instalments under the Contract is hindered or delayed for 40 days or more due to a force majeure event the Buyer may give written notice to the Seller to cancel the instalment which is affected by force majeure in which case neither party will have any liability to the other for that instalment and all remaining instalments will continue to be made pursuant to the terms of the Contract.

14.4. In the absence of notification as a claim or otherwise in accordance with 14.1 – 14.3 above, the Goods shall be deemed to have been delivered and accepted in conformity with the Contract.

15. Termination

Without limiting any other rights and remedies that may be available to the Seller if the Buyer:

- (a) is subject to any of the events referred to in clause 9.4 which result in termination of the Buyer’s authority to deal with the Goods.

then in any such event (each, a “Default”) the Seller shall have the right, exercisable in its sole discretion and at any time, to terminate and liquidate this and any or all other Contracts then outstanding between the parties by declaring any or all such contracts terminated. Upon such termination the Seller shall calculate its losses and costs (or gains) at such time in Pounds Sterling which the Seller incurs as a result of the termination and liquidation of such transaction(s) including (at the election of the Seller) costs which have been incurred as a result of its maintaining, terminating and/or re-establishing any hedge or related trading positions (as determined by the Seller in a commercially reasonable manner). After netting such losses and costs (or gains) to a single liquidated amount if the amount represents a loss to the Seller such sum will be due and payable by the Buyer to the Seller. Both parties acknowledge that an amount calculated in this manner would represent a genuine pre-estimate of the losses which would be incurred in such circumstances.

The Seller's rights under this clause are in addition to, and without prejudice to any other rights which the Seller may have (whether by agreement, operation of law, in equity or otherwise). If a Default occurs, the Seller may (at its election) from time to time set off any or all amounts which the Buyer owes to it (whether under this Contract or otherwise and whether or not then due) against any or all amounts which it owes to the Buyer (whether under this Contract or otherwise and whether or not then due), provided that any amount not then due which is included in such setoff shall be discounted to present value as at the time of setoff to take account of the period between the date of setoff and the date on which such amount would have otherwise been due).

After a Default, the Buyer shall be responsible for all costs and expenses incurred by the Seller because of that Default (including, without limitation, reasonable legal fees, and disbursements).

16. Dispute Resolution

16.1. It is the intention of the parties to settle amicably by negotiation all disagreements and differences of opinion on matters relating to the Contract. Accordingly, it is agreed that the procedure set out in this clause 16.1 shall be followed in relation to any matter of dispute between the parties relating to the Contract.

- (i) If any disagreement or difference of opinion arises out of this contract, then either party may refer the matter to be disposed of as follows:
 - (a) Head of Finance or Head of Logistics at the Seller and the equivalent position at the Buyer shall meet to attempt resolution. Should they not be able to resolve such issue within 21 days of the date on which the matter is referred to them then.
 - (b) A Director of the Seller and the equivalent position at the Buyer shall meet to attempt resolution. Should they not be able to resolve such issue within 21 days of the date on which the matter is referred to them, the dispute resolution process set out in this clause 16 shall be deemed to have been exhausted in respect of the matter in dispute, and each party shall be free to pursue the rights granted to it by this agreement in respect of such matter without further reference to the dispute resolution process.

- (ii) For the avoidance of doubt, this clause 16 shall not prevent either party from seeking injunctive relief in the case of any breach or threatened breach by the other of any obligation of confidentiality or other term of the Contract.

17. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

17.1 The construction, validity and performance of the Contract shall be governed in all respects by English law.

17.2 Subject to clause 16.1 the parties to the Contract irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales in respect of any and all disputes arising out of or in connection with the Contract.

17.3 However the Seller shall not be precluded from pursuing arrest, attachment, and/or other conservatory, interlocutory or interim actions in any court.

18. Miscellaneous

18.2 Failure or delay by the Seller in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision of the Contract shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the Contract.

18.3 Any waiver by the Seller of any breach of, or any default under, any provision of the contract by the Buyer shall not be deemed a waiver of any subsequent breach or default and shall in no way affect the other terms of the Contract.

18.4 Each of the parties to the Contract shall be responsible for obtaining all consents, authorisations, approvals, and assurances of whatsoever nature necessary to enable it to comply with its obligations under the Contract.

18.5 The parties to the Contract do not intend that any term of the Contract shall be enforceable by virtue of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 by any person who is not a party to the Contract.

18.6 Any notice (including any claim) or other communications given to a party under this Contract or in connection with the Contract shall be in writing, in English and in the case of the Seller addressed to the Seller at Studio 2, 58 Waldo Road, London NW10 6AX and if addressed to the Buyer at its registered office (if it is a company) or otherwise its principal place of business or in the case of either party such other address as that party may have specified to the other party in writing in accordance with this clause. 18.7. Each party (the “Receiving Party”) undertakes to the other that it shall not at any time disclose to any person any confidential information disclosed to it by that other (the “Disclosing Party”) concerning the business or affairs of the Disclosing Party, including but not limited to information relating to the Disclosing Party’s operations, processes, plans, product information, know-how, designs, trade secrets, software, market opportunities and customers (Confidential Information), save that the Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information to its employees, officers, agents, consultants or sub-contractors (Representatives) who need to know such information for the purposes of carrying out the party’s obligations, provided that the Receiving Party takes all reasonable steps to ensure that its Representatives comply with the confidentiality obligations contained in this clause. The Receiving Party shall be responsible for its Representatives’ compliance with the confidentiality obligations set out in this clause.
